

AUTO GENERATION OF BUILD OF MATERIAL DATA

ABSTRACT

[0045] A system and method for generating and providing file markers encoded with build of material information. The build of material information is identified from a source file and the file marker is encoded with the build of material information. The encoded file marker may be sent to a central authority upon the abnormal termination of an application in the computer system.